Living Christmas Tree
Performance almost sold out

The annual Living Christmas Tree performance, scheduled for Dec. 7 and 8 at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center, is almost completely sold out.

According to Director Leigh Woodham, ticket holders are urged to get to the theatre about 30 minutes early on the day they have tickets.

This is to ensure that your seat is not given to others if you are not there by 7:30 p.m. on Saturday or 3 p.m. on Sunday when the performance starts.

"Everyone's cooperation will be greatly appreciated," she said.

The church is located at 491 East Main Street, Pahokee. Follow the signs to the Fellowship Hall.

To place an order in advance from an assortment of pecan tassies, sandies, nut horns, brownies and dozens of drop cookies, sugar cookies and iced cookies, call 924-7241.

Old Chatham Sugar Mill east of Belle Glade to be renovated for bast fiber processing American Bast Fibers (ABF) of Naples will renovate the Chatham Sugar Mill on State Road 880, east of Belle Glade, to process bast fiber.

The 80-acre site, targeted to expand to 5,000 acres, will create year-round employment of at least 500 jobs by the year 2000.

ABF received a tax-exempt $10 million industrial revenue bond through the Business Development Board of Palm Beach County through the private market.

"We are thankful for the help and cooperation we have received from the Business Development Board of Palm Beach County and the County Commission's decision to approve our IRB request," said John Baker, president of American Bast Fibers. "We intend to work closely with these two organizations as we implement the company's plan to create a new industry for Palm Beach County," he added.

ABF will use the IRB bond proceeds to renovate the existing facilities of the Old Chatham Sugar Mill into a bast fiber processing facility with an initial 30,000-pound-per-day capacity.

It will also have an anaerobic fermentation facility (to convert rami and other plant matter - not used to make the fiber - into organic field compost and methane gas for processing the plant's energy needs), a laboratory, office space, and storage facilities.

"ABF's decision to expand into Palm Beach County complements the agricultural business already located here," said Larry Pelton, president of the Business Development Board of Palm Beach County. "The sugar cane and citrus industries provide a logical balance for bast fiber development in South Florida since bast fiber crops are harvested from April to November, during a time when both citrus and sugar growers are in their off-season," he said.

Fire destroys homes of two families in Belle Glade

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

A child playing with a barbecue grill lighter set fire to a bedroom in an apartment building and burned out two families on Friday, Nov. 22.

Belle Glade Firefighters were called to a two-story apartment fire at 741 S.W. Avenue D, Belle Glade at approximately 11 a.m. Fire Lt. Frank Cody said they had the fire under control in just over two minutes and completely extinguished in 10 minutes.

No one was injured in the blaze, but two families in the building were left without a place to live.

The downstairs apartment was rented by Edilien and Lurieiene Joseph. They have four children, three daughters, ages 4, 6, 8 and an 11-year-old son. The other apartment was occupied by Jacques and Sadilia Joseph-Paul and their son, 15, and daughter, 11.

The two families received temporary housing and vouchers for food and clothing from the West County Service Center of the American Red Cross.

Additionally, Apt. 4, with three adults and three children, and Apt. 2, with one adult and two children received temporary shelter and food due to heavy water and smoke damage. The Red Cross said the cost of assistance will run several thousand dollars, including the cost of additional assistance after the two families find another place to live.

Grassy Waters and Car Show filled with many events

By Stephanie Schneider

The Grassy Waters Festival and Car Show was once again successful!

Residents from Pahokee, Belle Glade, South Bay, Clewiston, and other surrounding areas came to see the sights and participate in the activities of the Grassy Waters Festival and Car Show.

The Festival was kicked off with a Gospel Sing-off held Thursday, November 21, at Good Shepherd Church of God. It was a great beginning to a wonderful festival.

Saturday morning, November 23, at 7:30 a.m., registration for the Florida Trail Association's "Big O-Hike" around Lake Okeechobee began and at 8:30 a.m. the hikers were on their way with the cutting of the ribbon. The hike began lakeside on top of the dike in Pahokee.

As the day progressed, many other events took place. One of the most popular events, the bed races, started at 10:00 a.m. and had a large crowd to watch the various teams battle it out for the bragging rights of being the winners.

For the second year in a row, the Pahokee Police Department walked away with the first place trophy and $75. Second place and $50 went to the Pahokee Fire Department. Third place and $25 went to Everglades Regional Medical Center. The bed races were sponsored by Royal's Furniture and Springwall Bedding.

The First Place team consisted of Kent Viz, Mike Madden, Willie Hanks, Thomas Padgett, Mike Leatherman, and Adam

Corrections Deputy accidentally shoots himself in face

Willie Humber, a Corrections Deputy with the Palm Beach Sheriff's Office in Belle Glade, was cleaning his handgun last Saturday night when it accidentally discharged.

The bullet struck Humber in the cheek. He drove himself to Glades General Hospital and was transferred to Palms West Hospital. He was released

Monday, Nov. 25.

Humber was hired by the Sheriff's Office October 11, 1996, and is currently in training at the main jail.

Prior to that, he was a custody officer for Wackenhut Corporation at the Moore Haven Correctional Facility for approximately a year and a half.

West County Transfer Station opens in Glades

The Solid Waste Authority (SWA) of Palm Beach County opened the newly constructed West County Transfer Station in Belle Glade on Monday. This facility will replace the old Belle Glade Transfer Station on West Canal Street.

The station is now located at 1701 SR 15, just south of SR 80 in Belle Glade and will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and on Saturdays from 7 p.m. to noon.

The station will also serve as a "limited item" satellite drop-off for household hazardous waste. Limited items are defined as items such as used oil and oil filters, car and rechargeable batteries and propane cylinders. These items can be dropped off at any time. All other household hazardous waste items can be brought to the satellite facility the fourth Monday of the month during January, April, July and October.

Mina Murray honored for her years of service to the local community

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

"I was so surprised," said Mina Murray after being honored at the Nov. 26 Belle Glade City Commission meeting for her years of service as a nurse to the local communities.

Belle Glade's mayor, J. Stephen Weeks, presented a proclamation to Mrs. Murray and Commissioner Clay Connell presented her with a dozen red roses.

"I'm going to tell you right up front, I storied to you to get you here tonight," Mayor Weeks told Mrs. Murray as he asked her to come to the front.

He read the proclamation and commended her for her years of service to the community as a nurse and caregiver.

Mrs. Murray began a nursing career in 1929, during the Great Depression. She and her husband, Richard, came to Belle Glade in 1951. She worked for Glades General Hospital and the Pahokee hospital for the next 25 years and then moved on to nurse sick and terminal patients through the local Hospice program. Although she retired from nursing five years ago, she still continues to visit the sick and elderly in the community.

At 85, Mrs. Murray still serves on the Western Palm Beach County Health Board, West Technical Education Center Board and does work for the Division of Senior Services for Palm Beach County. Each year she organizes a luncheon and program for National Nurses Week.

Mrs. Murray said she wanted to be a nurse since she was five years old. Her mother made her a nurse cap and talked to her about how kind and caring the nurses were to her during a recent hospital stay.

She is known for her quote, "I'd rather wear out than sit still and rust out," and for saying, "Once a nurse, always a nurse."

Mrs. Murray has won many awards through the years, including the coveted "Citizen of the Year" award from the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce in 1990. She is a graduate of William and Mary College and worked as a public health nurse all over the state of Virginia before moving to the Glades 45 years ago.

Some Curious and Unique Weather

by Mike Lyons

"Some curious and unique weather occurs along the lee shores of the Great Lakes during the winter." Those are the words of Professor Val Eichenlaub in his classic book Weather and Climate of the Great Lakes Region.

I thought of Professor Eichenlaub's words last week as I watched the news reports from Cleveland, Syracuse, Grand Rapids and other communities unlucky enough to be on the "lee shores of the Great Lakes."

As you probably know, these towns were buried under several feet of snow. It was a heavy, wet snow - the kind of snow that makes a perfect snowball but also the kind of snow that pulls down tree limbs, collapses roofs and disrupts power lines.

Yes, this would certainly fit the category of "curious and unique weather". Three feet of snow in three days is certainly unique.

Yet, even more peculiar was the way that all that snow formed. You see, last week's big snow did not come from a storm. No, all that snow was created by a stiff wind and the waters of the Great Lakes. It's called lake-effect snow.

Cold arctic air rushing across the relatively warm waters of the Great Lakes are the ingre-dents for lake-effect snow.

Last week, the environment was set up in textbook fashion.

The Great Lakes are, by mid-western standards, still fairly warm. Water temperatures were in the upper 40's and lower 50's. But, the air temperature was positively frigid.

Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and Syracuse all reported the mercury in the upper 20's and lower 30's.

But, it was even colder about one mile up in the atmosphere. There, the temperature hovered around zero. And, it was that icy cold air that charged across Lakes Superior, Michigan, Huron, Erie and Ontario all last week.

As the cold air streams across the warm lakes, it is warmed a bit and becomes more humid. As the air warms, it becomes less dense and begins to rise, forming clouds and eventually, lake-effect snow. As long as the wind keeps blowing and the air remains cold, the snow will continue to fall.

Usually in one unfortunate location. It is not uncommon to have as much as 50 inches of snow fall in a narrowly concentrated zone. For example, on December 10, 1937, four feet of the white stuff buried northern Buffalo. Yet, the south side of town had only flurries.

Oswego, New York has had some legendary snowfalls. From December 7-11, 1958, over 66 inches of snow fell. And the five day total for January 27-31, 1966 was an incredible 101 inches.

These highly localized storms effect only areas near the lake, generally extending inland no more than twenty miles. So, it is not uncommon for a traveler to encounter blizzard conditions near one of the Great Lakes, yet experience bright sunshine, calm winds and beautiful weather less than 30 minutes away.

Lake-effect snowstorms are unique to the Great Lakes - it truly is a weather feature they can call their own. Only the Great Lakes have the right combination of geographic features to create this most unusual of storms.

The folks of Cleveland who are still knee-deep in snow must be very proud.

YOUR MEDICAL PROFESSIONALS

Nationally Certified Massage Provides the Healing Touch

News USA

(NU) - Of all the signs that massage therapy is growing in popularity, there's none better than this:

For the first time, athletes at the Atlanta Olympics will have access to massage therapists as part of the Summer Games' official medical services.

The ancient art of massage is finding its way into modern physicians' offices, fitness centers and hospitals. The Olympic athletes will join an estimated 20 million Americans who rely on the rejuvenating touch of professional massage.

As more turn to therapeutic massage and bodywork for pain relief, rehabilitation, relaxation, or physical and mental rejuvenation, massage and bodywork therapy is one of the nation's fastest-growing health care trends, according to a study by Harvard Medical School.

As massage therapy grows more popular, there has been increased emphasis on national certification and professional standards. Today, consumers have the option to seek the services of a nationally certified massage therapy practitioner.

"We recommend consumers turn to nationally certified massage therapists and bodyworkers for the same reason they use licensed doctors and dentists and certified physical therapists and chiropractors," says Margaret Avery Moon, board chairman of the National Certification Board for Therapeutic Massage and Bodywork. "It's their assurance of quality, consistency and trust."

How To Start Walking

Your Way To Health

(NAPS) - Walking is not just a way to get from one place to another—it's also an easy way to live a longer, healthier life, an efficient way to lose weight and a low-stress way to reach performance-level fitness.

One of the easiest forms of exercise, walking can be scheduled into most people's lives and can be attempted by the most sedentary of couch potatoes. Your only equipment is a pair of walking shoes, and while those last walking is free—no membership dues or expensive training equipment.

So, why aren't more people walking?

That's simple. They haven't started. As with other programs, getting started is the hardest part. Here are some tips from experts at Walking Magazine on how to get yourself out the door.

If you want to walk in the morning, lay your walking clothes out the night before.

Schedule your walk with a friend or tell everyone that you're planning to go for a walk.

Schedule your walk in your appointment book. Take it as seriously as you would a doctor's appointment.

Promise yourself that you're just going out for a quick walk; say five minutes. Once you're out, you'll probably walk farther.

If you can't fit a long walk into your day, try to squeeze in several short walks.

Start a streak—an uninterrupted series of days where you walk for at least ten minutes. A streak is a terrible thing to break.

Set a short-term goal, like a certain number of miles a week and keep track of it.

If you're beginning, stick with short walks (10 or 15 minutes) at first and expand from it.

Start every walk with a few minutes of easy strolling to warm up; help you avoid sore muscles and reduce the chance of injury. Finish with some simple stretches to keep your body supple and prepared for it.

For long-term health, aim to walk 30 minutes per day, six or seven days a week. For weight loss and longevity, aim to 60 minutes per day and for maximum fitness levels, walk 20 to 60 minutes at a fast pace, five or six days per week.

Always talk to your doctor before making any changes to your exercise program. For more information about walking events, programs, books, resources and clubs, and for a free copy of Walking Magazine, call at 1-800-924-0084.

Massage Therapy Used by Millions

(NU) - Facts about massage therapy, from a survey by the National Institutes of Health:

- An estimated 20 million Americans receive massage therapy each year.
- There are approximately 50,000 massage and bodywork practitioners nationwide.
- Those practitioners provide 45 million one-hour sessions each year.

Massaging regulations vary from state to state. The national certification board sets national standards that benefit both consumers and practitioners:

In order to be nationally certified, therapists must log 160 hours of on-the-job experience and pass a national certification exam. The exam ensures that each individual has an extensive body of knowledge, including an understanding of human anatomy, physiology, kinesiology and clinical pathology.

Nationally certified practitioners can work in physician's offices, private practices, spas, health clubs, fitness centers and hospitals. To locate a nationally certified practitioner in your area, call 1-800-296-0664.

Preventing Blindness

(NAPS)—Millions of Americans are slowly losing their sight...and they don't know it. They suffer from glaucoma, a disease that can cause blindness but can be prevented if detected early.

Kirk Puckett, major league baseball star with the Minnesota Twins, was forced to retire due to glaucoma. In just over three months, Puckett went from hitting home runs and catching flyballs to retirement from his 13-year career because of retinal damage to his right eye caused by early-stage glaucoma.

Mr. Puckett is now working to educate Americans about glaucoma and its effects. "This disease catches you without warning," said Kirk Puckett. "Now I am going to work to educate those at risk because early detection is the key."

Glaucoma is caused by a build-up of fluid, causing pressure within the eye. This pressure damages the optic nerve which causes cupping of the optic disc and eventually interferes with vision. While anyone could contract glaucoma, certain groups are at particularly high risk, including:

1. African Americans
2. Individuals over age 40.
3. Those with diabetes or high blood pressure.

4. Individuals with a family history of glaucoma.

One new treatment now available to treat glaucoma is Xalatan (zal-a-tan), from Pfizer & Upjohn. With its unique mechanism of action, Xalatan will help glaucoma patients who are either intolerant or insufficiently responsive to other introcular pressure-lowering medications.

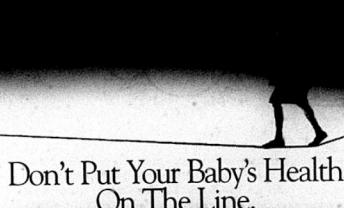

Kirk Puckett, major league baseball star with the Minnesota Twins, was forced to retire due to the effects of glaucoma.

Xalatan is believed to act by increasing drainage of fluid in the eye, rather than by reducing its production, as some of the most commonly used treatments do. Also, Xalatan has no effect on heart rate or blood pressure and can be used by people with asthma.

"Today there are a number of effective treatments for glaucoma, but you have to see an eye doctor to get them. That's why I'm encouraging everyone to get checked," Puckett said. "If I only takes about 10 minutes. Maybe if I'd been checked out I could have caught my problem sooner."

In clinical trials, after 6 months of treatment, 7.2 percent of patients using Xalatan (zal-a-tan) were reported to show a gradual change in eye color with an increased amount of brown pigment in the iris of the treated eye. The change in iris color occurs slowly and may not be noticeable for several months to years. The increased pigmentation may be permanent. Therefore, patients should be examined regularly as the long-term side effects of this change are currently unknown. Other local adverse effects reported in clinical trials included blurred vision, burning and stinging, conjunctival hyperemia, foreign body sensation, itching and punctate epithelial keratopathy.

Letters to the editor

Dear Friends:

On Election Day, you helped Florida's sugar farmers secure a fantastic victory. A new, billion-dollar tax on Florida-grown sugar was rejected by a large margin.

Jorge Dominicis, vice president of corporate relations, has been keeping you informed of Flo-Sun's effort to save the Everglades and ensure a growing economy for Florida agriculture. Jorge has told of all the help you gave us in getting that message to the men and women of our state.

Be assured that Flo-Sun will remain committed to a clean and healthy environment for future generations. We look forward to your continued assistance with that goal.

For all the great work, the entire Flo-Sun team extends a heartfelt THANK YOU.

Best personal regards,

Florida, a bonanza to archaeologists

By Cathy Keen

University of Florida News

Learning something new about something old explains part of archaeology's lure to legions of amateurs who follow their passion despite bug bites, bad food and non-existent plumbing, says a University of Florida anthropologist.

"There is nothing quite like holding a 10,000-year-old stone spearhead in your hand and trying to re-create why it was made and how it was used," said Barbara Purdy, a UF anthropology professor emeritus and author of the new book "How to do Archaeology the Right Way." Although a painstaking science, archaeology is also a very human science because it connects us to the people of the past."

Yet the drama of discovery is rare, compared to the drudgery of the work and occupational hazards of field sites that are sometimes remote and primitive, she said.

Purdy encounters many people who say they have always wanted to be archaeologists. "Most of the time archaeology is not exciting at all," she said. "It is dirty, tedious, underfunded work that carries the danger of bug bites, snake bites, bad weather, bad food, and in some cases, bad company."

Florida is a bonanza to archaeologists because with rich, water-saturated peat bogs beautifully preserve ancient wood carvings, while hickory nuts and squash seeds, which give valuable dietary clues. Even human brain tissue is sometimes found preserved, she said.

"Archaeologists around the world are simply amazed at the information we have in Florida," said Purdy. "One wonders why everybody gets so excited about the Ice Man of the Alps - one man with a few tools - when we have unbelievably spectacular sites in Florida like Windover, where brain tissue was found oozing out of human crania."

"Whenever there is a traveling exhibit like King Tut or gold masks from China, literally millions of people try to see them," Purdy said. "But the skills involved in fashioning some of the materials we have in Florida are equally as great as the skills needed to fashion gold or silver or stone."

The springs are one feature of Florida's natural environment that draws increasing numbers of amateurs to archaeology, be it to search for rare Paleo-Indian artifacts, treasures from 17th-century shipwrecks or fossilized remains of Pleistocene mammals, Purdy said. By identifying and reporting these underwater sites to professional archaeologists, amateurs perform a valuable service for professional archaeologists, many of whom do not dive.

Amateurs and professional archaeologists have maintained a love-hate relationship over the years because, while amateurs can help the professionals, they can also foul up scientific research when they dig improperly and plunder, Purdy said. "Since professionals go about their work very systematically, they don't have time to open up as much territory and are less likely to find pristine, beautiful pieces," she said.

"That's why all the real goodies are in the hands of amateurs."

One of the most common mistakes amateurs make is not collecting everything they find at a site. "They'll take only the spearheads, or the pottery pieces, or maybe a human skull and put it on their mantle," Purdy said.

If they find stone spearheads with pottery shards, they take only the spearheads because the pots are not intact, she said.

"How often are you going to find a whole pit?" she said. "Archaeologists use the shards to date and interpret the people's way of life. Because the time period is often in limbo, these pieces of pottery are important."

Pottery indicates that a site is younger than 4,000 years because ceramics did not exist in Florida before then, she explained.

Despite some bad examples, many amateurs learn to learn proper techniques, often joining local archaeology groups to do so, Purdy said. And in a rapidly growing state like Florida, the biggest future threat to the state's archaeological heritage comes not from the amateurs, but from development, she said.

overflow the banks of creeks, rivers or lakes, or cause flash flooding of other low-lying areas where saturated ground can't absorb the water quickly enough.

Unfortunately, many homeowners are unaware that standard homeowners insurance doesn't cover damages from a storm surge or other flooding. Too often, they discover the need for separate flood insurance only after a disaster strikes. More than two thirds of the homes and commercial buildings located in flood-prone areas of the United States are not covered by flood insurance. Moreover, those who do buy flood insurance often do so to satisfy their mortgage requirements, but neglect to insure the contents of their dwelling.

"Experience the Spirit of Pahokee"

Waltersdorff.

After the race, the crowd made their way over the dike to enjoy a fun-filled day full of good food, good friends, and good entertainment.

The festival provided much for adults and children. The theme "Experience the Spirit of Pahokee", really was relevant due to the spirit of unity that flowed through the crowd. Between people chatting and visiting with one another, volunteers checking in to see where they were needed to help, and the hospitable atmosphere, the true spirit of Pahokee was revealed.

The Boat Race was also successful. This event was sponsored by BellSouth and U.S.C.C. Most Seaworthy was #12, Seniora (Robert Middleton, Sybille Foster); Most Original, #10, S.S. Minnow (Paul Levin, Wayne Jarriel). The Broken Paddle Award went to #33, S.S. PFD (Gary Burroughs, William Burroughs).

Race winners were: 1st place, #20, Shot Rocket (Sam Tillis, Josh Maynor); 2nd place, #15, 15 Gauge (Octavio Abunza, Malberto Gonzalez); 3rd place, #10, S.S. Minnow (Paul Levin, Wayne Jarriel).

Wayne Jarriel).

Judges for the boat races were: Line Judge, Joan Ramsey, Teacher, Pahokee Elementary School. Most Original and Most Seaworthy Judges were: Sandra Chek, PBSO, Associate Adviser, Sheriff's Explorers and Dick Foreman, President, Asphalt Angels Car Club, North Palm Beach.

The Bake-Off was the most delicious event at Grassy Waters. The first place winners were: Baking-Tina Provenzale, Cathy Mohney (won three); Canning- Sherri Hatton, Warren Ingram and Shirlee Ingram.

Best Over-All was awarded to Christine Venezia. Bake-Off Judges were: Rev. Ronnie Jones, Rev. Bill Dever, and Greg Jones.

The Fire House was turned into an art gallery and showcased some of the area's most talented artists' works.

The Classic Car Show was a big hit this year, as it is every year.

Paul Hill took home a Special Interest trophy. Donald Smith won the Best 4x4. Jim Lewis won Best Antique. Hal Lohse won Best Custom. Bruce Ward won Best Pick-Up Pre '60. Don Hancock won Best Pick-Up '61 and Later. Bubba Leonid won Best Street Machine '60 and Later. Tom Hacker won Best Closed Pre '49.

Tom McElvy won Best Closed '50 and Later. Stan Burton won Best Open Pre '49. Don Mattingly won Best '55 thru '57 Chevy. Keith Berquist won Best Corvette Pre '63. Phil Provenzale won Best Corvette '63 and Later. Tom McElvy won Best Factory Muscle Car. Dick Foreman won Best Mustang. Jerry Arline won Best Motorcycle. Ed Lithgoe won Best NON Ford-NON Chevy.

Asphalt Angels won Club Participation. Walt Larue won Hard Luck Story Medal. Stan Burton won Longest Distance Medal. Jim Bowden won Candy Count and Nuts & Bolts Count. Julia Wilkinson won 50/50 raffle. James Vanlandingham won the lot raffle. Jimmy Horthman won preregistration drawing.

The 8th Annual Grassy Waters Festival was a success and was described well in a quote by Alice Thompson, Executive Director for C.F.C. "We had such a wonderful time. The theme was "Experience the Spirit of Pahokee" and the gospel sing on Thursday night just set the tone. The spirit was so precious."

Grassy Waters Festival & Car Show

Richard Cheek and his daughter, Lindsay, enjoy taking a tour of Grassy Waters on the train.

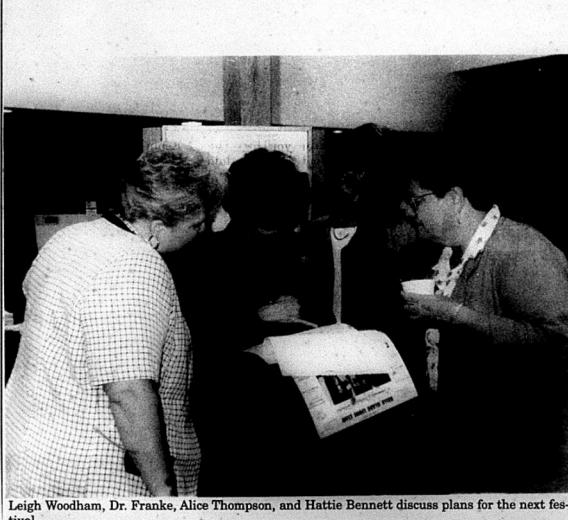

Craig and Matthew Korbly take time to give the camera a smile and show the spirit of Pahokee.

Part one of a two-part series

What's been happening with the Families Forum?

By Clarence W. Fuller, Jr., Ed.D.

Shortly after the Second Families Forum in September 1995, the Glades Community Development Corporation (GCDC) initiated Vision to Action, a long range strategic planning process for the Glades communities. Vision to Action is designed to give a group of 40 residents the information, tools, and guidance necessary to develop a vision and long range goals for the economic and social development of the Glades. Activities included weekend retreats and community meetings. The final version of the Vision to Action plan will be completed in February 1997. The information gathered at the two Families Forums is being utilized by Vision to Action.

The following information was gathered from the two Families Forums, Families Forum Follow-up Focus Sessions, Glades Community Development Corporation's Incubator Survey, and the Florida Atlantic University's (FAU) Focus Sessions. Needs/Concerns are prioritized based on the number of times they appeared. All of the Needs/Concerns were identified at one or both Families Forums. Suggested solution components were taken from all of the above sources. The following are major issues, needs/concerns, and suggested solution components:

Family Support - How do I make ends meet?

Needs/Concerns and suggested solution components:

1. There is not enough work. There is a need for more and better job opportunities. The economy needs to be diversified and new businesses need to be attracted that are not agriculture or prison related.

2. The following information was gathered from the two Families Forums, Families Forum Follow-up Focus Sessions. Housing conditions are poor, and existing housing is too expensive. Farming could be moved outside the city limits to provide more space for housing. Subsidies could be made available for property owners. Also, landlords' responsibilities could be enforced.

3. There is a need for additional affordable, quality child care for parents who are working or in training. Child care centers do not serve needs of farm workers who start early in the mornings and work late in the evenings. Centers could open earlier and close later. There are needs for more facilities and slots. Welfare recipients could be trained to provide child care. Parents who receive child care could be required to be either working or in school. Money for child care programs could be made available through loans or grants.

4. There is a need for additional after school activities at the schools and in the community. Suggestions include a recreation center, indoor sports facility, youth center, and indoor swimming pool. Tutoring could be provided. The Private Industry Council's summer youth program could serve younger children.

2. There is a need for increased parental involvement in the schools. Some parents tend to blame teachers for children's problems. Some parents lack the time and resources to be involved. Schools could sponsor monthly parent's days and courses on teaching parents how to help their children learn and how to give positive reinforcement. Teachers could be given "flex time" in order to meet with parents outside of regular working hours, and more teachers could conduct home visits. Employers could allow "flex time" for parents to attend and participate in school activities.

Next week: Affordable Health Care - Is the health system working for my family?

What does HIV/AIDS mean to us and to the community?

Adolescent issues - Is anyone listening?

Human Services Delivery - Is there help when I need it?

Public Safety - Why don't we feel safe?

Education - Is our education system the best it can be?

1. There is a need for additional after school activities at the schools and in the community. Suggestions include a recreation center, indoor sports facility, youth center, and indoor swimming pool. Tutor-

Second you put turkey in a Reynolds bag after you get through basting the turkey with your ingredients.

Then you put the turkey in the oven and set the temperature to 350 degrees. You wait until the turkey gets moist brown and tender before taking it out of the oven. Finally you take the turkey out of the oven. You and your family sliced the turkey then eat it.

That's "How to cook a turkey".

Kimberly Stewart

Let me tell you how to cook a turkey. First you buy a turkey, defrost it, then check ingredients. Check pans and decide on what kind of stuffing, make and then stuff it. You should check over temperature and it should be 180°. When it's done you can eat the turkey and dressing.

Marcus Smith

Let me tell about to cook a turkey. First you go to buy. You decide how many pounds you want it to weigh. If you want to weigh five pounds or ten pounds or 15 pounds or 25 pounds. You got to make sure that your stove is clean and then you take the bag and you put it in 350°.

Joaquin Martinez

This is the way to cook a delicious turkey. First, you make sure you have your ingredients to season your turkey and your stuffing.

Next you buy the turkey. Then you heat the oven to put the turkey in. Then you get the pan the same size as the turkey. You cover the pan with aluminum foil.

Then heat your turkey. You can see if your turkey is done by putting a fork in it. If it is not done put it back in the oven for a little while.

If you think it is done, take it out of the oven. That's how to cook a delicious turkey.

Glades Central Junior Varsity Goes To Inaugural Championship

It was the best of times, it was the worst of times. No, this is not the beginning of a Dickens' novel. This is a capitalization of the inaugural Junior Varsity Championship game in which the Glades Central Raiders met the Palm Beach Lakes Rams. Both teams came to the contest with undefeated records and swept through their respective opponents in the first round of the playoffs the week prior. But as the fans filed into the stadium, something in the air let them know this game would not be like any other previously played.

Palm Beach Lakes received the opening kickoff and drove the length of the field for the game's first points- a touchdown! The Raiders were not bowed. "Now it's our turn!", screamed one of the assistant coaches as Glades Central took the ball at their own 36 yard line for their first possession. On their first play from scrimmage, Willie Lawrence took a pitch from around the end for a gain of eight yards, but fumbled, turning the ball over deep in Raider Territory. This set the tone for the rest of the first quarter, and as a shell-shocked G.C. crowd watched, the Rams reeled off 22 unanswered points. This could not be the same team they had watched dominate opposing teams throughout the season.

In the second quarter, a dramatic shift took place. Freshman, QB Adrian Brown began to step up and made big plays, finding Reggie Vickers, Johnny Mullins, and Darnellus Jones for huge passing gains or scrambling himself for crucial first downs.

The defense decided to also take an active role in the game, shutting down the Rams offense totally- a stark contrast to the opening quarter. With less than a minute left, the Raiders rallied for 22 points of their own and appeared to be taking control of the game. But looks can be deceiving, with less than a minute left to play and the score knotted 22, Palm Beach Lakes took a kickoff and returned it for a touchdown that left the Raider sidelines in dismay, and the score at halftime 28-22. Palm Beach Lakes 50, Glades Central 38.

It was a Raider team that accomplished quite a bit in their young lives and Coach Reynolds would not let them forget that in defeat. "I'm proud of this team", he said following the game. "I'm proud of what they've done with their season and what they've done to get this far but I'm most proud of how, in victory or defeat, these guys stuck together as a family and would not quit. We all learned an important lesson here today!"

Congratulations to Coach Reynolds and his team! They've once again shown us that the Glades has much to be proud of.

This is the result of Pioneer Park Elementary's Thanksgiving Walk-a-thon...food for needy families!

Pioneer Park Elementary Walks to Feed Families This Thanksgiving

By Stephanie Schneider

This Thanksgiving, 45 families that would have gone out on a Thanksgiving meal, will have a Turkey, dressing, fresh corn, various canned foods, and the rest of the trimmings compliments of Pioneer Park Elementary School.

The cost of feeding 45 families isn't cheap but about 400 children and staff members pulled together to raise the money so that these families wouldn't have to go without on a day that's spent by many being thankful for what they have.

Ms. Edna Stevens coordinated this annual walkathon with the help of Pioneer Park's student council and the children that walked to raise money to make the Thanksgiving baskets.

When one student was asked why they were walking to Pioneer Park, they just gave a toothy grin and said, "Because everyone needs to eat turkey on Thanksgiving."

#50 Otis Duhart is ready, willing and able to do his part to ensure the Raiders go to the state championship playoffs.

Gators shoot it out

By Eddie Campbell

Last Friday, the Glades Day Gators began the "second half" of their football season with a wild win over the Miami-Westminster Warriors in the first game of the playoffs by the score of 48-35.

This game looked to be an easy one for the Gators in the first quarter. Tailback Lee Sweet scored two touchdowns of five and 25 yards to put the Gators up 14-0 at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter the Warriors showed the Gators that they didn't travel all the way to Belle Glade just to get sat on. Two quick Warrior touchdowns tied the game at 14-14.

Sweet answered the Warrior onslaught with his third touchdown, this one covered ten yards. The extra point attempt failed leaving the score at 20-14 Gators. The Warriors answered right back this time on a 57 yard touch down reception. With the extra point the Warriors took the lead 21-20.

On the ensuing kickoff, Heath Norman returned 88 yards for a touchdown. The Gators went for two and got it making the score 28-21 Gators.

But once again the Warriors scored another touchdown leaving the game tied at half-time 28-28.

In the third quarter things slowed down. At least they did on the scoreboard. The only touchdown scored in the quarter was on a 50 yard touchdown pass from Zach Threlkeld to Norman.

The Warriors tied the game once again on a quarterback sneak to make the score 35-35.

Sweet put the Gators back up with his fourth touchdown of the night. This one covered 18 yards.

The Warriors' attempt to answer this touchdown was botched when Alex Molaras intercepted a Warrior pass on the Gators own eight yard line. The Gators own eight yard line.

The Gators got the ball out of reach with Threlkeld's quarterback sneak with 1:30 left in the game making the score 48-35.

Sweet gained 300 yards on 25 carries and scored four touchdowns for the Gator offense which racked up 495 yards on the night. Molaras and Matthew Snow led the Gator defense each making six tackles. Molaras also had two interceptions.

This Friday the Gators host the St. Edward's Pirates in the second round of the playoffs. The Gators beat the Pirates

Glades Central Rolls Over Titusville

By Stephanie Schneider

On Raider Field last Friday night, Glades Central showed Titusville their ability to play football and play it well by beating them 20-7. This win advanced Glades Central into District 4A playoffs.

Dan Brown, having one of the best games of his career, launched an offensive attack that the War Eagles couldn't stop. Catching seven passes for 132 yards and two touchdowns, made this man virtually unstoppable on the football field.

Brown's coach told him that he needed to have a big game and that's exactly what he did. He went on the football field ready to play and ready to win.

Junior quarterback Brad Banks also helped lead Glades Central to the victory over Titusville. The War Eagles' defensive goal was to keep pressure on the quarterback and despite all their efforts, nothing phased Banks. Banks was 15-for-23 with 214 yards and two passing touchdowns.

Glades Central will travel to Miami Pace this Friday to compete in district playoffs. Game time is set for 7:30 p.m. Everyone come out and support the Raiders in their quest for another state championship. Good Luck Raiders!

and two passing touchdowns.

Glades Central scored the first touchdown from a fumble by Titusville's quarterback. Defensive end, Robert Jefferson carried the fumble 51 yards for a Raider touchdown.

That was only the beginning of the offensive attack that ensued.

In the third quarter, Dan Brown caught a 10 yard pass from Banks and turned it into an incredible 49 yard touchdown. A two-point conversion was achieved after that to make the score 14-7.

After that it was all Raiders. Glades Central capitalized on Titusville's many fumbles and mistakes to make this a huge game that Belle Glade will not soon forget.

Glades Central will travel to Miami Pace this Friday to compete in district playoffs. Game time is set for 7:30 p.m. Everyone come out and support the Raiders in their quest for another state championship. Good Luck Raiders!

By Robbie Evert

The Pahokee Blue Devils advanced to the second round of the playoffs last Friday night with an easy win over the Miami Archbishop Curley Knights. Sophomore sensational quarterback Anquan Boldin ran for two touchdowns and passed for two more to lead the state ranked Blue Devils to a 41-12 win.

The Blue Devils will host Tampa Catholic Friday night for the second time this year. The Blue Devils defeated Tampa in the semi-final round of the state basketball tournament in February.

Boldin accounted for four of the five touchdowns in the first quarter. He ran 63 yards, breaking four tackles to start the scoring. Antonio Newborne set up the next Blue Devils touchdown with three consecutive runs to the eighteen yard line. Boldin took it in for the score followed by Rodriguez kick. A Javoski Harvey interception at the 20 yard line set up a 17 yard TD pass to Antonio Graham. Pahokee recovered kickoff fumble by Curley on the 28 yard-line and Boldin found James Burroughs in the endzone for a TD. The next score was an eighty-five yard touchdown pass to Lloyd Towns. Anthony Williams topped off the scoring with a one yard run that gave Pahokee a 41-6 lead.

Hometown hero Ronald Boldin was joined by his parents Ronald and Earthlene Boldin as he was honored at half-time for his performance in the Muck Bowl.

All three Glades area teams advanced to the second round of the play-offs this week. Wouldn't it be neat if the entire Glades community went to the finals? Go Teams!

Lead stays with J.E. Wilson

Jimmy Beno with J.E. Wilson still has the lead this week. Gary Melven of Steve Moore is close behind.

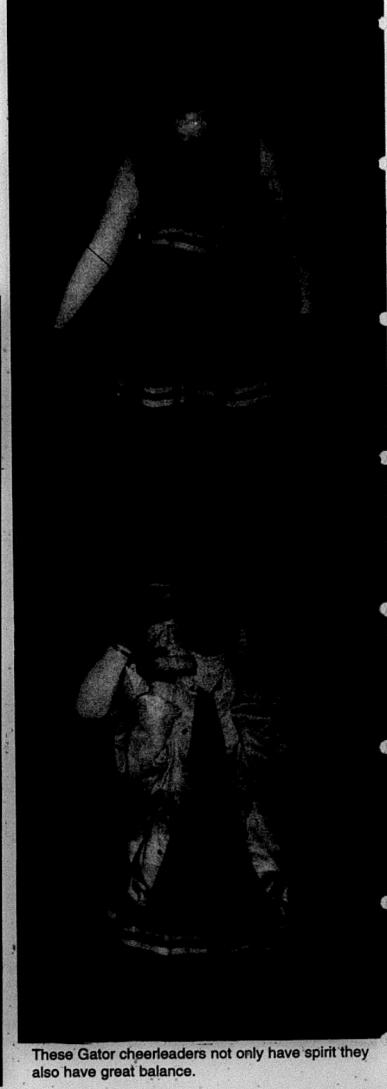

Gary said last week it was "time to go for broke," and he shortened the lead this week by two points. He said he was going to put the heat on Jimmy, and he did.

Since this publication goes to print on Monday evening, we won't have the results of tonight's game, but the two men have voted opposite, so either Gary could sneak to within one point of Jimmy, or Jimmy could stretch his lead to two points.

Last week, Mike Burkett with Lake Hardware said he feels Jimmy has this competition pretty well wrapped up, but, as they say, "It ain't over till it's over."

All three of our local high schools have continued their winning streak and we are excited right along with them as they continue to rack up the wins.

We wish all the local teams GOOD LUCK and the same to all Pigskin Prediction players.

These Gator cheerleaders not only have spirit they also have great balance.

Historical opportunity for South Florida anglers

Submitted by GFC

Chance to make freshwater fishing history got a lot better for South Florida anglers on Nov. 1 when the International Game and Fish Association (IGFA) added the Butterfly Peacock Bass to its line class records.

The Butterfly Peacock Bass, a native of Central America, was introduced to Dade County canals in 1984 by the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission (GFC), said Paul Shafland, director of the GFC's Non-Native Fish Lab in Boca Raton.

Shafland supervised the Butterfly Peacock stocking program which re-vitalized freshwater fishing in South Florida. This super predator feeds off the abundant population of tilapia and other undesirable exotic fish found in South Florida canals and adjacent ponds.

The IGFA all-tackle record for a Peacock Bass was set on March 11, 1993 by Jerry Gomez who caught a 9.5 pound Butterfly Peacock in Kendall Lake in Dade County. BFC electro-shock surveys documented the presence of 10-pound Butterfly Peacocks.

Wild horses coming to Florida for adoption

The Bureau of Land Management (BLM) will sponsor a wild horse Adoption at Davie Arena in Davie, Florida January 11-12, 1997. Hours are from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and the general admission is free. BLM will bring 100 horses from overgrazed Western rangelands to Florida in search of good homes for these magnificent animals. The adoption fee is $125 per horse.

A wild horse maintenance and care seminar will be held at the adoption site on January 10, 1997 from 5 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. Door prizes will be given away at the end of the seminar along with the fifth (5) and 10th place selections in Saturday's lottery drawing.

BLM's Eastern States Director Carson W. Culp, Jr., said the Adopt-A-Horse & Burro Program is one way the Federal Government's uses to maintain a balance between the wild animals, native wildlife and domestic animals grazing on fragile western rangelands.

"The BLM has management responsibility for 270 million acres of the nation's public lands, most of which are located in the 11 western states," said Culp. "To help maintain an ecological balance and preserve mustangs and burros as 'living legends,' BLM gathers and offers them for adoption."

Fishing with B.A.S.S. touring pro Walt Reynolds

I spent this past week on Lake Hartwell in Northeast, Ga., fishing the Bass Masters Invitational. It was rather cold there (in the 20's) and the fishing was slow. Lake Hartwell is a very pretty lake, with very clear water. Most of us who made pay checks, caught our fish forty to fifty feet deep, on jigging spoons.

The fishing here on Lake Okeechobee is still rather slow also. There are some fish being caught in the areas with clean water. The problem is that with only a very limited amount of clean water available, those areas are receiving a tremendous amount of fishing pressure.

I hope everyone has a Happy Thanksgiving and gets a chance to go fishing over the holiday.

To all a good bite,

Walt Reynolds

Hunter Education Rules To Change On January 1

A new law, effective January 1, will require anyone born on or after June 1, 1975 to pass a hunter education course before he or she may buy a hunting license.

Previously, the law required anyone born on or after June 1, 1975 to pass a hunter education course before they could hunt in Florida.

Captain Ed Tyer, hunter education administrator for the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, said previous wording of the law effecin the system.

The IGFA has opened all line-classes from two to 20-pound-test to the Butterfly Peacock. Any legally caught Butterfly Peacock weighing more than ONE pound qualifies as a world-record unless someone else has already caught and reported a larger one on the same test line.

Shafland predicts that many world record Butterfly Peacock catches will be recorded in the coming months.

"Twenty years ago people would have called you crazy if you told them that anglers would one day fish for a world record Peacock Bass in the Dade and Broward county canal system," Shafland said. "It's ironic, but anglers in South Florida probably have a better chance of catching a world record Butterfly Peacock than anglers fishing for them in their native range."

Shafland bases his conclusion on information gathered from Florida anglers and with anglers he met during two trips to South America. "Anglers consistently reported catching larger Butterfly Peacock in South Florida than in South America," he said.

The proportion of large fish in the South Florida population appears to be greater here than in the Butterfly Peacock's native range. But don't feel too sorry for these South American anglers since they commonly catch the much larger Speckled Peacock Bass that commonly grows to sizes larger than 15-20 pounds," he said.

Butterfly Peacock Bass can be caught in most metropolitan canals, ponds and lakes in Miami and Ft. Lauderdale area. Shafland cited Airport Lakes in Dade County as a premier Butterfly Peacock Bass fishery. The lakes are located just south of Miami International Airport.

Shafland recommends anglers use live shiners or fish imitation artificial baits such as the Rapala. Small top-water lures and flies are also effective. Plastic worms and crayfish imitating lures - so effective for Largemouth Bass - are not recommended for Butterfly Peacock Bass.

"Anglers hoping to break an IGFA record have another advantage," Shafland said. "The canals are typically kept weed-free, and anglers using light-tackle don't risk getting good homes."

The nonrefundable adoption fee helps recover some of the government's expense for transportation and veterinary care of the animals. Before shipping, every animal rounded up by BLM is thoroughly checked by a veterinarian, Coggins tested and vaccinated for various equine disorders.

Adopters are required to provide 12 x 12 feet of adequate shelter and 20 x 20 feet of corral space with sturdy fencing 6 feet high. In order to transport the animal(s), adopters must have a solid constructed horse trailer, preferably a stock trailer, with a covered top and sideswing back gates (drop ramps are not permitted) along with halters and lead ropes. BLM contract crews sort, halter and load the animal(s) onto the adopter's trailer. A mare and foal or two grown horses will NOT be transported in a two-horse trailer.

Application forms can be obtained from the BLM Jacksonville District Office, 411 Briarwood Drive, Suite 404, Jacksonville, FL 32204 or call (904) 734-5430. Only those receiving prior approval of their applications, either over the phone or in person by close of business January 6, 1997 will be eligible for the lottery drawing. If your application is approved, a letter and a yellow notification card will be mailed to you before the adoption. You will be required to present this card at the adoption. "Walk-up" applicants will be accepted on a first-come, first-serve basis, but will NOT participate in the lottery.

All potential adopters must check-in at the registration desk at 7 a.m. January 11, 1997 to have their paperwork reviewed and notification cards placed in a hopper.

All adopters are required to attend an orientation meeting at 8 a.m. that will take about 30 minutes. Following the meeting, notification cards will be drawn from the hopper to determine the animal selection order.

7th Annual Glades Health Career Day Held at West Tech.

By Stephanie Schneider
On Wednesday, November 21, West Technical Education Center was turned into a library of information on jobs in the medical field. Students from Glades Central, Pahokee, Clewiston, Moore Haven, and P.A.C.E. were present to take advantage of the opportunity to see and talk to people who actually work in the fields that interest them.

Students were taken to the cafeteria to listen to a welcome and introduction speech given by Sandra Chamblee and Shirley Maxson. Guest speakers were Esther Hamlet, Gwen Asia Williams, Jeanne Squitier, Barbara Benken, and Alma Harrel.

After listening to the speeches, the students were broken up into small groups so that they were able to view displays and talk one on one to some of the presenters.

On hand to demonstrate and talk to students were

Emergency Medical Technicians in an ambulance, the Doctor Bus, nurses from Everglades Regional Medical Center and Glades General, pharmacists, respiratory therapists, X-ray technicians, substance abuse counselors, home health care nurses, social workers, medical assistants, and many other medical-related professionals.

Palm Beach County's Trauma Hawk was scheduled to be there but due to the fog and increase of accidents on the roads, the Trauma Hawk was in use saving lives and couldn't be spared for a demonstration.

This Career Day was sponsored by Glades P.A.T.C.H., West Tech, Everglades Area Health Education Center and Nova Southeastern University.

The Health Career Day held at West Tech is the only one held in Palm Beach County and is an annual event for West Tech. and the Glades students.
